

Touching Moments

funded by British Transport
Police for Project Guardian

Interactive Forum Theatre
workshops for Years 9 and 10

FREE OF CHARGE
to London Secondary Schools
touring January - March 2015

As part of BTP's Project Guardian, Arc has devised a new youth engagement programme using live theatre to raise awareness of sexual offences on the London public transport system.

Recent statistics show that:

- One in 10 passengers have experienced unwanted sexual behaviour on public transport
- Over one in four teenagers have experienced an unwanted sexual encounter
- 95% of victims do not report their experience to Police.

Project Guardian is a British Transport Police, Metropolitan Police and Transport for London initiative, which aims to:

- Increase the confidence of reporting sexual offences which occur on London transport
- Reduce the risk of becoming a victim
- Challenge unwelcome sexual behaviour
- Target offenders.

Arc's Touching Moments interactive programme uses live theatre to tackle the issues in a safe and inclusive environment. Selected schools are offered one day of up to three, one-hour sessions, for up to 120 students per session. Places on this tour are FREE OF CHARGE, but strictly limited, and will be reserved on a first-come, first-served basis. To book Touching Moments, please contact Nita Bocking or Theresa Snooks at Arc on 020 8595 8509, email nita@arctheatre.com or theresa@arctheatre.com

BRITISH TRANSPORT
POLICE

METROPOLITAN
POLICE

Working together for a safer London

TRANSPORT
FOR LONDON

www.arctheatre.com